

PLEDGE

YOUR KIDS. YOUR MARRIAGE. YOUR JOB.
ALL DEMAND A CONTINUED LEVEL OF COMMITMENT—IN GOOD TIMES AND BAD.

In our state, spending on higher education within the general fund continues to shrink. In fact, it receives one-third less state funding today than it did 30 years ago. In order for our state to thrive, we need a renewed commitment to higher education funding — a pledge to retain a higher level — or we all will lose.

Support higher education this election season by voting for candidates who pledge to live up to this promise, ensuring our public colleges and universities remain a priority for funding.
