

60% OF GRADUATES AREN'T GRADUATING TO ANYTHING.

Only 40 percent of graduating seniors meet the basic requirements for admission to an in-state public university. And about 57 percent require some additional coursework before entering community or technical school.

Washington is poised to become a global economic powerhouse. So why aren't we giving our children the opportunities they deserve to enter the workforce?

Let's give every graduating senior a chance. Vote for candidates and measures supporting better outcomes in public education in Washington state.

Because we must do better.
